

For your convenience, insurance bodies have provided a list of preferred restoration companies.

Please note that using these companies does not guarantee a successful insurance claim. The lot owner remains responsible for all costs associated with restoration, unless a claim is accepted by the insurance provider.

In the case of an emergency restoration, please call nominated restorers as per the below list.

Please try to avoid any companies not on the list, they can often be costly and provide a service that is well below what the listed panel repairers can provide.

It is requested that you make use of this list in case of an emergency over the festive season.
